Coal Miners Back to Work

PITTSBURGH, April 22.—(AP)—Nearly all the nation's 400,000 soft coal miners went to work today and industry spokesmen predicted production would be almost normal for the first time since the miners went on strike 39 days ago.

The back-to-work movement began on the afternoon shift yesterday and picked up speed today. District United Mine Workers officials appealed to the rank-and-file to head John L. Lewis' order to return to work.

Illinois was the first state to report all its mines back to work. The UMW has 21,682 members in Illinois, and production averages 250,000 tons daily.

Western Pennsylvania operations reported that between 80 and 85 per cent of the miners were working. They said they expected normal production later today.

If C. Price Cook Co., a U.S. Steel subsidiary, reports that only one of its 14 mines still closed in Western Pennsylvania, Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., another U.S. Steel subsidiary, would resume production at its Clairton by-products plant from 79 per cent yesterday to 90 per cent.

Wavell Blames Burma Loss on War Cabinet

LONDON, April 22.—(CP)—In a dispatch released today Earl Wavell, leader of 14 British campaigns in the Second World War, describes his last assignment in Burma and by implication blames its failure on lack of support from the British war cabinet.

Describing operations in Arakan and North Burma in the early part of 1945, he repeatedly cites the incapacity of naval and air forces landing craft and transports. Twice the War Office later footnotes to the effect that landings in North Africa and Sicily "took higher priority and there were insufficient resources for both operations."

Wavell says that in his campaigns in Africa, the Mediterranean, Middle East and Southeast Pacific he has always been conscious that everything possible was being done to support me, that my lack of resources was due to a general shortage.

"There was one exception," "During the operations recorded in this dispatch I received neither encouragement nor help nor understanding of the difficulties, only criticism for the failure of a bold attempt to engage the enemy with inadequate resources, in hazardous circumstances."

Policing Plan Up to Congress

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(AP)—Administration officials predicted today that President Truman will ask Congress to approve any new American troops to police Palestine.

This apparently does not rule out the chance that there will be an extreme emergency, order limited to 10,000 troops to the United States American lives and property. Officials are deeply concerned, however, lest Arab-Jewish fighting flare on an even larger scale next month when British starts withdrawing her troops.

TWO CONDITIONS
Warren R. Austin, United States delegate, Tuesday told the United Nations Special Assembly session in Palestine that the United States is prepared to send troops to the Holy Land to support a trusteeship government, under two conditions.

First, other countries also provide forces; second, Arabs and Jews must agree to a truce.

Administration legal authorities are understood to have advised the White House that nothing in the law would prevent the president from using his constitutional power as director of United States foreign policy to send troops to the Holy Land.

Ross said Sawyer telephoned Truman today from his home at Cincinnati to accept the appointment.

THIS TRAP TOSSES MOUSE FROM HOUSE

KANSAS CITY, April 22.—(AP)—Want an air-conditioned straw hat equipped with an electric fan?

Or a mouse trap that doesn't kill but flips its victim out of the house?

The inventor is J. W. Haynes, 60-year-old grain broker, and he's perfected a lot more similar gadgets. His inventions were on display today at a jobbers' club show—and they attracted the most spectators.

The mouse trap has a miniature catapult. When the trap grabs its victim the catapult is automatically released and the mouse goes flying out the window.

"That will prevent the mouse from coming back into the house," Haynes was asked.

"Only his self respect," Haynes responded. "No self-respecting mouse is going to keep on coming back into a house from which it has been pitched out three or four times."

Just try it

KANSAS CITY, April 22.—(CP)—Pity the poor, cash-burdened used car dealers. Hijackers are dipping into their profits.

Police report out-of-town dealers carrying large amounts of cash to and from auctions have fallen prey to highwaymen.

"The robbers lie in wait at edges of the city on main highways and watch for the special licence plates on the dealers' cars," a police officer said. "Then they move in for the hold-up."

Police officers out of all—no officer said many of the dealers don't report the robberies "because they don't want to explain how they got the money."

Million To Be Spent In Combatting Slides

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—The Canadian National Railways will spend $1,000,000 within the next year or so to combat mountain slides in the Rockies that have caused two fatal accidents to trains in recent months, E. D. Fulton (PC-Kamloops) was informed yesterday.

The information was given by W. Walton, executive vice-president of the CNR, in the Commons committee on railways. He was answering Fulton's question about what the railway planned to do in view of the tragedies.

Walton said the CNR had been "very much concerned" about the rock slides and the situation had been "particularly bad in recent months." R. C. Vaughan, president, had set aside money for a two-pronged effort to combat it.

CREW WARNINGS
Automatic smoke signals to warn train crews would be set up over a 30-mile stretch between Red Pass Junction and Jackson and over a 20-mile stretch between Spences Bridge and Hope. There also would be a trail of slide-protection fences.

Walton said the slide problem was a "very serious" one and that the railway was working out. Installation of the smoke signals was possible but he could not promise that a substantial part would be installed before the coming winter. The deliveries of material and erection would undoubtedly run into 1949.

Albertans Warned Of Rat Invasion

Reputation of Province Endangered, Not Yet Established

The rat invasion is on! Albertans were warned in an announcement by J. H. Brown provincial entomologist on Wednesday that the reputation of the province as the "only rat-free area on the North American continent" was endangered.

"Rats have sent out their advance troops," Mr. Brown warned. "One of these was captured and killed in Edmonton only last week, he said.

"They have not yet become established in Alberta, he thought.

PREVENT ESTABLISHMENT To prevent the establishment of colonies of rats, Mr. Brown said, he was making a survey of the province to determine the extent of the rat problem.

Two teams of university students will start on the annual pursuit of disease-bearing gophers, rabbits and rats in the south of the province on May 1.

The university students who are on the teams have been warned to be particularly vigilant on the eastern border of the province against rat invasion.

Three students from Alberta, Arthur Sovereign, John Little and John King and one from the University of British Columbia, Clem Colville make up the year's teams.

Besides guarding against rats the students will examine gophers for signs of plague and rabbits for signs of tularemia.

They will also check on the advance of the ticks which cause Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

Inoculation centers against spotted fever are already in operation at Manayweny, Redcliffe and Theima in the south of the province.

The company is spending $500,000 on a new bottling shop and modernization of equipment here.

The basement of the new bottling plant has been completed and structural steel is being raised for the extension, which should be completed this summer.

The company is spending $4,000,000 on plant expansion in its five Canadian breweries located at Edmonton, Vancouver, Regina, Prince Albert and Lethbridge.

Mr. Sick arrived here from Calgary today after attending the annual meeting of Sicks' Breweries there.

OFFICIALS ON VISIT He is accompanied by G. B. Whitmore, Regina, president of the company and Thomas Dancer, Calgary, general manager.

The officials conferred here with G. H. Rowan, manager of Sicks' Edmonton Brewery.

After inspecting plant expansion progress here Mr. Sick will leave tonight for Calgary and Regina and will fly to New York city for the annual meeting of the American Brewers Association.

The Sicks' company ranks about sixth among 200 brewing companies in the United States in volume of product output.

The company has two plants in Seattle and plans in Spokane, Salem, Oregon and Great Falls, Montana.

Neo Supporters Grow in Senate

Margarine Bill in Second Reading Before Upper House

By George Ronald

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—Two more senators went on record yesterday in support of margarine. A third said he would agree to the repeal of the ban on the butter substitute if farmers were protected against its competition.

They spoke as the senate resumed debate on a motion for second reading of a bill by Senator W. D. Euler (I.—Ontario). It would make legal the importation, manufacture and sale of margarine. The debate again was adjourned.

Sensor W. Rupert Davies (I.—Ontario) said he will support the bill because "I don't like monopolies."

"I believe margarine is a good food and I see no reason why we shouldn't have it in Canada. I don't think it would interfere with the dairy industry at all."

Sensor J. J. Donnelly (P.C.—Ontario) expressed similar support. Noting "the dairy industry is only one part of this country," he said margarine was a substitute poor men could afford.

Qualified support was given by Senator P. H. Bourdell (I.—Quebec).

WANTS PROTECTION

"While I am against the ban," he said, "it would like to see the government impose duties high enough so that foreign margarine will not compete with the product of Canadian farmers."

Sensor Bourdell said unrestricted sale of margarine would be "a threat to the best policy for a young country."

Referring to Senator Euler's argument that all citizens are entitled to free choice of food at the best possible price, he said:

"It would mean free trade... if freedom means that every person is to buy all he wants at the lowest price, why not abolish customs and excise taxes? Why have young industries protected until they are sufficiently developed to meet competition?"

Despite an objection by Senator Euler, he maintained Canada now should supply the ingredients needed for margarine production.

BEEF PRODUCERS' CONTRIBUTION

Sensor Donnelly said supporters of margarine had no desire to lose the dairy industry. Beef producers, by exclusion from the richer United States market, were contributing "very much more than dairymen would under a free margarine market."

Sensor Davies noted Agriculture Minister Gardiner recently had said margarine was not harmful.

The senator quoted from a Canadian Medical Association Journal article: "Pro... the economic and medical standpoint, good margarine is superior to butter."

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—A pound of "bogus" margarine applied to the plan did their cause in the elections.

Reds About-Face On Marshall Plan

ROME, April 22.—(AP)—The Communist leader of Italy's powerful General Labor Confederation said yesterday he intends to ask the executive council of the World Federation of Trade Unions to let each country, independently of Russia, decide its attitude toward the Marshall Plan.

This reversal of the Confederation's previous position, Giuseppe Di Vittorio said, would preserve its unity and let each country decide its own position on the basis of that country's individual economic needs.

The Italian Communist's about-face on the Marshall Plan, which they fought bitterly during the election campaign, was apparently calculated to avert a threatened split in the 4,000-member Confederation over American aid to Europe.

NO GAIN IN CN ABSORBING HBR

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—R. C. Vaughan, president of the Canadian National Railway, told Ronald Moore (CPC—Chatham), yesterday he could see no advantage in changing the present system under which the CNR runs the Hudson Bay Railway for the federal government.

In the Commons committee on railways, Moore asked if there had been any requests that the CNR absorb the HBR.

U.S. Navy Strikes Arctic Oil Gushers

OLYMPIA, Wash., April 22.—(AP)—The Washington state oil and gas commission said yesterday the United States navy is striking "gushers" in one out of every seven oil wells it is drilling in the Arctic.

Brig. Gen. Eusebio Llewellyn, who returned from the Arctic last year, made the statement last night.

When T. L. Church (CP, Toronto) (read) later asked Agriculture Minister Gardiner to make a statement on the margarine issue, Mr. Crankin promptly said:

"The margarine across the floor to the opposition member."

Mr. Church turned it to his desk. R. J. Henderson (CP, Lambton) also asked the question.

Youth Emigration Deplored By Tory

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—A Progressive Conservative member of Parliament yesterday deplored the emigration of Canadian youth and blamed it on the lack of development of private enterprise in this country.

Last year 30,000 men and women left Canada because opportunity was denied them here, John Dieffenbach, of Lake Centre, Sask., told a luncheon meeting of the Women's Progressive Conservative Association.

"That's one export Canada can't afford to have if she is to survive."

"We must take a stronger stand on the maintenance of private enterprise, which is the only way young men and women could achieve the destiny which their great country should give them."

Even though there were faults in private enterprise, it was the only way young men and women could achieve the destiny which their great country should give them.

Higher CN Pensions Said Impossible

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—R. C. Vaughan, president of Canadian National Railways, told Norman Lockhart (CP—Lincoln) in the Commons committee on railways yesterday that any upward revision of pensions would "cost so much out of the country's pocket."

Vaughan added, "We feel that our pensioners are not getting the best of our minimum pensions, they are adequate."

Beef Black Market Costly to Packers

By William Wilson

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—Black market competition caused Canada Packers Ltd. substantial losses in its beef trade in the first half of 1947, the company's president, J. S. McLean, told the special prices committee yesterday.

He continued, "Customers bought at the black market price as low as they could and then bought in the black market."

Mr. McLean urged the committee to get information from the subject rather than from him. When he was present for information he pointed out to Health Minister Martin, chairman, that he had not introduced the subject except in answer to a question about the company's losses on beef.

While freight charges on eggs had come up in Manitoba, those in Quebec and Ontario would remain unchanged because the railways had the same truck competition in the two central provinces. Manitoba had trucking lines too, but they were prevented by law from undercutting the railway rates.

Broke apes in resumed debate on two opposite side-of-the-fence motions which arise from the rate increase.

Parks. Damage was estimated at $100.

5 Poultry Industry Of West Is Hit By Freight Boost

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—William Bryce (CCF—Selkirk) told the Commons yesterday the recent 25-per-cent increase in freight rates will increase costs for the poultry industry in his Manitoba constituency. If maintained, the increase would result in a drop of production.

While freight charges on eggs had come up in Manitoba, those in Quebec and Ontario would remain unchanged because the railways had the same truck competition in the two central provinces. Manitoba had trucking lines too, but they were prevented by law from undercutting the railway rates.

Govt. Now Confident On Freight-Rate Vote

By John Lehman

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—Western and maritime members yesterday span the Commons' long freight-rate debate through its eighth sitting, shutting off votes on two non-confidence motions until today.

bring the issue to a head, it is certain that the Commons would come today on whether the Mackenzie King government will stand or fall.

The government, confident now of winning and anxious to get the session closed, moved yesterday to accelerate the votes by obtaining the waiver of the standing rule that would have barred them today. Without this, the debate would have had to go over until Tuesday.

In yesterday's abbreviated session—the Commons said only afterwards on Wednesday—seven speakers were heard. They were from all four of the major parties, but only the west and Maritimes were represented.

ONE NEW PROPOSAL

While the debate generally followed the tenor of the last seven days' talk, one new proposal emerged. Frank Stanford (P.C.—Culterton-Hants) suggested the 21-per-cent railway rate increase—pivot of the battle—should be cut to eight per cent for the maritimes.

In the vote, the Commons will register its view on CCF and Progressive Conservative motions with a favorable vote on either meaning the overthrow of the government and a general election.

Though they approach the question from different ticks, both centre the government for its freight-rate policy.

MADE APPLICATION

Before the non-confidence debate was resumed, Transport Minister Chervier told the house he would have to consider whether the freight-rate increase applied on grain moving over the Hudson Bay Railway to the Port of Churchill, Man.

He told Ronald Moore (CCF—Chatham) that his bid had not been accepted, though applying for an increase.

CCF members held the floor through much of the freight debate yesterday, with that party bringing four of the seven members who spoke. At adjournment, Hazen Anger (CCF—Wood Mountain) was talking.

Federal Govt. Urged Share Education Cost

OLDS, April 22.—(CP)—A resolution urging the federal government to share the burden of education was approved at Wednesday's session of the 17th annual convention of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations.

Other resolutions urged the Alberta government to bear at least 30 per cent of the cost of education and to increase safety precautions for children driven to school in vans. Roads should be improved and school boards compelled to maintain a certain standard in school vehicles and drivers.

INTEREST LACKING

Delegates deplored the lack of interest in home and school associations often displayed at the high school level and said lack of interest of the students themselves was partly to blame. At the same time delegates reported that fathers were taking an increased interest with several associations reporting that men made up half their membership.

One delegate, father of three children, said men were beginning to realize that "educating your children means more than just supplying the money to pay for school books. At a time we started to find out just what our children are doing and what their problems are."

WORLD PEACE "PANEL"

An interesting panel discussion on the individual community's responsibility in establishing peace—theme of the convention's education for world peace—was led by Dr. F. A. McCalla of Edmonton. Members included Mrs. F. C. Butterworth of the Edmonton school board, John Farina, director of recreation, Edmonton, and Warner Troyer of Eastwood high school, Edmonton.

Members agreed that if prejudice and intolerance were built up in a child, it was the community's job to break them down by planned group activities for preschool and school children.

Horses Being Shot In Rocky District

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE

April 22.—Farmers in the Rocky district, 30 miles southwest are shooting their horses, rather than let them die of starvation. They feel that they thought would last all winter, has been gone for weeks and the horses have gone down to skin and bone on a diet of straw, for there is no feed of any kind to be bought in the country.

What little they have to give their horses seems now lacking in some necessary quality that stock requires when they are fed such a long time. Rather than see them fall in the fields and die, the farmers shoot them.

Old-timers say they have never seen such a hard winter on stock, which the Indians say, too, as they are losing horses every day. The Indians say it is bad enough for the white man, but he has a tractor, jeep or car, but without his horse, an Indian cannot get along, for he will not walk. "Walking is for squaws," they say. If the white man's horses die, too, the outlook is bleak indeed, for where will the Indians get animals to replace his?

LOVER SPURNED TRADES BLOWS WITH RIVAL

The eternal triangle caused trouble to city police early Thursday morning.

A spurned lover went to the home of his former girl friend's new love, and traded a punch in the nose for a blow on the head with a bottle.

Police were called to mediate in the fracas.

Three times the east-off one returned before the night was over but evidently police too, can have enough of an affair of the heart.

New Arrival in Alberta Likes "Breathing Space"

Call it breathing space, lebensraum, or just plain bigness, Canada has it.

Fred Bull, latest British immigrant to come to Alberta under the new immigration scheme, revelled Wednesday in the country's size.

"There is room to breathe in this country," he remarked.

Mr. Bull arrived here with his wife and two children, Patricia, who will have her first Canadian birthday Friday, and Christopher, five.

NOT A NEWCOMER

But Mr. Bull is not a newcomer to Canada.

During the war, along with thousands of other British men, he journeyed to this country to participate in the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

He was here for more than two years.

He fell in love with the Canadian attitude at that time, he said, and it was then he made up his mind to return.

Things taken for granted by Canadians of longer standing excited "Ohs" and "Ahs" from the newcomers.

"Georgious," breathed Mrs. Bull of Canadian food supplies. In spite of carrots and cabbage shortage.

Mr. Bull, a toymaker by profession, hopes to start a manufacturing business here.

Insurance of his plans will depend upon availability of labor and materials, he said.

Not quite so worried about new British financial restrictions, Mr. Bull explained he had not the "OK" for his departure to Canada before the new order came into effect.

This means he will be allowed to bring 1,200 pounds, or approximately $3,000 per year out of Britain.

The family were greeted here by government officials.

Pending plans for his own business, Mr. Bull has accepted a position with Army and Navy department stores.

TRUST BETRAYAL SERIOUS OFFENCE SAYS CITY CADI

A charge of obtaining unemployment insurance by making false statements brought a two-week jail term to an Edmontonian Wednesday.

Francis Boon, 45 Connor road, court was told, obtained $470 insurance fraudulently.

Magistrate H. L. Hawn pointed out the sentence was given more for betrayal of trust than the amount of money obtained.

"The insurance commission has to rely entirely on the honesty of the applicant," he explained.

This attitude must be overcome, she said, before the children can be properly educated for their lives in the world.

General Electric Gets New Office

Specially Designed Bldg.
Epitome of Simplicity

Smooth operation of an efficient office staff will mark the official opening of new offices of Canadian General Electric in Edmonton Friday.

No special fanfare is planned for the event. Office manager A. E. Ormsby said today business of the company will be well under way in its new quarters before the opening time.

Mr. Ormsby started with the company in Edmonton as a warehouse man 27 years ago.

He looks with personal pride on the new $100,000 office and warehouse which the firm has constructed at 10147 104th street.

And rightly so, Mr. Ormsby was responsible for the design of the new building.

Realizing that architects can design a building, but that only the men who are it work in it know its precise requirements, Mr. Ormsby, with the aid of his office and service staff, designed the most efficient building possible for their purpose.

Because of the weight and multifunctional nature of electrical equipment, the entire structure was especially designed throughout.

SPECIFIC DESIGN
For example, in the electrical conduit section, where as much as a carload of pipe might be required at once, racks for storing the pipe have been specifically designed for that purpose.

They allow an expansion of floor space so that when pipe is being used up the floor space of the warehouse automatically increases to make room for additional stock.

There, too, the floor is designed to withstand weights of 2,000 pounds per square foot.

The building, externally of blond brick, is of steel and concrete construction within.

MANY PROBLEMS
This although providing great structural strength and neatness of design, poses many problems too. All power and telephone conduits must be planned for and installed before construction is under way.

In fact, Mr. Ormsby, in his original design, laid on telephone circuits which may never be used, but which are provided for if the necessity of expansion should ever arise.

With the construction of a warehouse such as this, one realizes the day of dingy and grimy storehouses has passed forever.

In construction, decoration, lighting and air conditioning, it is the equivalent, if not the superior, of most office buildings constructed during the past few years.

Stock of the building includes everything from tiny light bulbs to heavy transformers.

In fact, it is designed to meet the needs of Northern Alberta, the Arctic and part of British Columbia.

HOUSES STAFF
Staff of the building not only includes the usual accounting and bookkeeping workers, but also a staff of electrical engineers and servicemen capable of coping with any electrical problem likely to arise in the country.

The building has direct connections with truck loading and a railroad spur line.

Stairs carried in the building represent all divisions of General Electric.

Mr. Ormsby stressed that they are able to service almost any kind of electrical work, electrical contractors, mines, packing plants and all types of industry.

Much of the stock carried delivers far deeper into everyday living

COAL STRIPPING NORTH OF ARCTIC CIRCLE PLANNED

PORTLAND, Ore., April 22.—(AP)—Coal stripping north of the Arctic Circle in Alaska is planned by a company that announced organization here yesterday.

William T. Foran, Fairbanks, Alaska, said the Alaska Corp. held a claim on coal deposits near Cape Lisburne, some 100 miles north of the Circle in the Arctic Ocean.

Foran, who served as a consulting engineer for the navy's oil reserve and the U.S. coal commission survey in Alaska, said chromite, asbestos and clay mining is also under consideration. He said the coal could be marketed in Japan and other Western Pacific areas.

Minerals and clay will be sold in the U.S.

Foran is a vice-president and consulting geologist.

Petition Is Seeking Recall Of Mayor

MEDICINE HAT, April 22.—(CP)—The "hook war" took solid shape last night with circulation of a petition to recall Mayor W. M. Rae. Three hundred names were reported on the forms when canvassers quit for the evening.

The mayor's recall is sought by the Medicine Hat Property Owners Association because he favored a recent "purge" of the public library's shelves. Seven thousand of its 15,000 volumes were removed as "obscene" and the librarians discharged.

The association needs 1,400 names—25 per cent of the 5,600 votes polled in the last mayoral election—before it can demand the mayor's recall and automatically precipitate a mayoral by-election.

President Thomas Daniels said last night the association was confident of acquiring enough signatures.

Alta. Legion Branches Wait Convention Lead

CALGARY, April 22.—(CP)—Canadian Legion branches in Alberta have set aside the question of dealing with possible Communist party members until the Dominion convention scheduled for Winnipeg next month, D. E. Fraser, Calgary, executive secretary of the Alberta Command of the Legion, said last night.

He was commenting on a report "open defiance" of the Legion's policy of Communism.

He said that the Ontario command had suspended the University of Toronto branch's charter for "We feel that this is far too important a question to be dealt with by the dual branches and have asked all branches in Alberta to defer any possible action on the problem until after the Dominion convention," Mr. Fraser said.

He said that action was taken after No. 1 branch of the Legion in Calgary expelled three members of the Labor Progressive party recently.

He said there was no Legion branch at the University of Alberta and that "anyway we are not expecting any trouble here."

At Ottawa, a defence department spokesman said the high school instruction and information plan yesterday suggested to a Winnipeg school board was not "national policy" of the Legion's policy on Communism was announced last night.

The Ontario Command said the suspension marked the first step to oust Communist party members from Legion branches and sympathizers from the Legion.

Later police caught two youngsters trying to fish the money out with a hooked wire. They said it had been easy before Collins put the cat to work. Now, they explained, the playful watch cat grabbed the hook and saved the money.

High School Military Proposal Considered

WINNIPEG, April 22.—(CP)—The policy committee of the Winnipeg school board has taken under advisement a suggestion from the armed services for a high school military instruction and information plan, it was disclosed yesterday.

The request was made by a three-man military delegation. The members were Col. P. A. Clift, Prairie Command administration officer; Lt. Col. Condr. Duncan McNeils, HMCS Chippewa, the naval training base here; Wing Cmdr. Alfred Bocking of the RCAF station.

Col. Clift, spokesman for the delegation, suggested:

The services be allowed to provide student counsellors with pamphlets and information concerning service careers;

Selected military speakers be allowed to address voluntary gatherings of students on the same basis as representatives from other professions and occupations.

NO 'PRESSURE'
Col. Clift said the proposal did not involve "pressure methods." The services were only asking for privileges accorded to other vocations, professions and trades.

He said that since the armed forces are recruited on a voluntary basis, the youth of the country were entitled to a clear presentation of their prospects.

The Ontario Command said the suspension marked the first step to oust Communist party members from Legion branches and sympathizers from the Legion.

Wheat Agreement Not Satisfactory

SASKATOON, April 22.—(CP)—The Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada yesterday said the recently-signed international wheat agreement is "not the answer" to Canadian farm problems. A statement said it still would be necessary to work toward revision of world trade and a "satiation" wheat price.

Critics of the agreement were:

1. Canada's export quota of 250,000,000 bushels a year was below the amount Canada could export.

2. The United States export quota of 180,000,000 bushels "is greatly in excess of the normal average export of that country and this leads to the conclusion that the U.S.A. unduly influenced the terms of the agreement."

3. The floor prices would not provide Canadian farmers with sufficient returns to offset costs of production.

Debt-Ridden CNR Finds Champion

Road's Books Compare With CPR Despite Handicaps

By Douglas How

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—The debt-ridden, state-owned Canadian National Railways had an authoritative observer speak out yesterday.

An accountant, who has been examining the line's books for years, said it was often compared with the rival, privately-owned Canadian Pacific Railway on "conditions that are just not comparable."

O. H. Matthews of the Toronto firm of George A. Touche and Co., chartered accountants, told the Commons committee on railways and shipping that Parliament might well study "the inherent operating handicaps" under which the CNR had long been functioning.

He said the CNR had "afforded some indication of a peace-time earning potential provided it is able to maintain a future traffic volume reasonably approaching the present level" and with two other qualifications.

TWO QUALIFICATIONS

The first was "some long term and reasonably compensatory returns through increased transportation rates in relation to increased wage rates and costs of materials."

The recent 21-per-cent freight rates increase had not been announced when the statement was prepared, but he warned that "any long-term solution of the line's economic problems depends not only on that but also on future trends of basic operating costs, fixed charges and traffic volume."

The second qualification was that there be a rate of fixed charges to operating revenues reasonably comparable with that of other major railways in North America. The present ratio of 10.5 per cent was "disastrous."

In Sea 26 Hours, Fisherman Rescued

VANCOUVER, April 22.—(CP)—Patrick Kelly, Stevenson, B.C., fisherman, was rescued from his slow-boiling gillnet early yesterday after clinging to it for 26 hours.

Kelly, 41, was en route to the Skeena river for summer fishing when his 30-foot boat was swamped by heavy breakers in Heceta Sound 10 miles northwest of here. When the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Elaine towed Kelly, only six feet of the boat was above water.

Kelly said that three boats passed fairly close to him but he was not seen.

"I don't think my boat would have stayed afloat much longer. I prayed to God that somebody would see me before I went down," Kelly added.

WOMAN WAITS 33 YEARS FOR $100,000

TORONTO, April 22.—(CP)—Mrs. J. M. Laing, 73, has accomplished what she set out to do 33 years ago—and will receive more than $100,000 as a result. A trust fund established in her name in 1915, when she was Mary Brodie Macavitt, daughter of Judge Daniel P. Macavitt of Sarnia, Ont., on condition she be married within a year, has been declared hers by the Ontario legislature.

The case, in and out of courts for years, was ended just before the legislature prorogued last Friday. A private bill ensured that the capital in the fund would go to Mrs. Laing.

Although Mrs. Laing married within a year of the fund's establishment, argument over procedure prevented a decision in the courts and the private bill was finally introduced to cut the legal tangle.

Edmonton Girl Works With Indian Children

Indian Children Lovable, Natural, Adapt Themselves to Learning

When Betty Kingzett left Edmonton for Alert Bay, B.C., last January, she probably didn't imagine herself president of an Anglican Young People's group of 25 members, all Indians except herself and another white girl. Yet, that's what she is today and she loves it.

Miss Kingzett is on the staff of St. Michael's Indian Residential School at Alert Bay, 200 miles north of Vancouver, and she is back here for two weeks.

Finding her work intensely interesting, she loves the children, who range in age from 4 to 16 and follow her around like little puppy dogs. "The ones that help but love them," she says. "They are all so affectionate and natural."

Declaring that she would rather have a group of Indian children to manage than any other, she explained that they are not spoiled or precocious and make no fuss about things like having inoculations or taking medicine.

Indian children are quick at learning and it gives the same chance could equal white children. According to Miss Kingzett, the trouble, she says, is that their environment is backward and antiquated and they don't learn the little things at home that a white child is taught.

Education and a feeling of equality with white people are what the Indian children want, in Miss Kingzett's opinion. One example of what can be accomplished by the work of a young Indian boy, a graduate of the school, who is now in his last year of law at university.

There is a farm in connection with the school where the students receive agricultural instruction. Many of the older girls want to be nurses and doctors. A lot of their spare time is taken up with Girl Guide activities.

A shortage of staff at the school makes it necessary for a person to be present to do anything, including nursing. During a recent flu epidemic, there were 120 children in bed, says Miss Kingzett. There are 200 at the school.

A well-known singer when she was in Edmonton, Miss Kingzett has started a choir at the school. She finds that music and stories will keep the children satisfied for hours, even the small boys who attend the Sunday school class.

She says the young people know that she is their friend and one that they can sometimes be coaxed to perform the native dances.

Way to Man's Heart Is Through Stomach

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is a very hard-working man and one in a million for his goodness and kindness. He is now 55 years old and his full week's pay is $85. I love him very much and we are very happy together except for this one thing:

I have a lady friend living with me who thinks I feed my husband too well.

She says if we were married to him, she would cut down on the amount of butter and eggs and the expensive food that he eats. She thinks he is a pig.

But I don't feel that way about my husband. He is six feet tall and a perfect rail, and I feel that he needs nourishing food. Don't you know I am right in giving my wonderful good, kind husband all the butter he wants and at least a dozen eggs a week for his breakfast?

ANSWER: Indeed, I do. Evidently by your lady friend, who happens in keeping a man on a starvation diet, has had little experience with the masculine sex, or else she would know that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. The old adage that says that the best way to retain a husband's affection is to feed the brute, is founded on rock-bottom truth.

Every man who gets married expects his wife to feed him on beef steak and onions and pies like Mother used to make, just as much as he expects her to show him tenderness and love.

If you will think of the happy homes you have known, you will recognize that they were all founded on the same formula—the husband was a good provider and the wife a crackleback cook.

MARITAL MISTAKE
The wives who are too lazy and trifling to give their husbands good meals, or who plan the grocery money to put themselves into, make a fatal mistake.

They are literally killing the goose that lays the golden egg, because, for one thing, it cuts down a man's earning capacity for him to be half-fed, and for another, a hungry man is always cross and surly and hard to live with.

So don't begrudge your husband his butter and eggs and pork chops, or whatever. The laborer is worthy of his hire.

Children Develop "Tics" From a Nervous Strain

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Children who are made nervous and tense by parents continually nagging at them to lift them to some high and often impossible standard of behavior, are the ones who most often develop nervous tics.

These tics consist of useless gestures which become so habitual as to be automatic and out of control of the victim. The child who suffers continuously, though he has no cold or nasal obstruction, the one who shrugs his shoulders, who coughs constantly or makes swift hand movements to eyes, or ear or hair, or who shakes his eyes when he speaks these are the most common tics which afflict children and adults alike.

Such gestures do indicate nervous tension and the movements momentarily relieve the tension. Parental scoldings, or angry reminders not to do this certain thing, are without appreciable influence on the habit. They merely aggravate the child's nervous strain.

The child finds a marked appeal, too, in being the center of universal family attention, even though this attention may be disagreeable. PLEASURABLE DISTINCTION

It's something to know that he is a person who "can stop bawling" as he has been told so often. It gives him a pleasurable distinction. Children of this type may progress from one form of tic to another. The shoulder-shrugging may change to sniffing, after a cold, or to eye-blinking if the eyes become dry or uncomfortable.

All of us know adults who are given to various habit tics, pulling ears when they talk, rubbing eyes, clapping hands, eye-winking, or the movement which has become part of their personalities.

NERVOUS STRAIN

When children develop tic, look to find evidence of nervous strain. The child may be bound to get good marks in school, or is constantly reproved and punished for childish behavior, or is without friends or companionship or articulation from parents, or is suffering from jealousy or a sense of inferiority.

These are the common bases of nervous tensions and these are what need correction. The tic will then take care of itself.

Our latest No. 62 "Nervous Habits," discusses other forms of behavior indicating nerve strain. If you have any doubts, you may be had by sending in your request for a self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of the Edmonton Bulletin.

Actress Eleanor Parker demonstrates one of the abdominal exercises ideally suited to you if bending makes you dizzy.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman
A reader says, "My waist line needs reducing. I am not really overweight, maybe five pounds, but I do have an accumulation of fat which I can pick up in rolls between my fingers. This is at my waist. Bending exercises make me dizzy. I have heard many women say the same thing. Women who are well, as I am. Aren't there any waist exercises which do not require bending?"

Many of the hip reducing exercises which are taken on the floor give the waist a new twist and numerous abdominal exercises give it a good stretch.

Yoged bending exercises too, arduous or unpleasant there are other exercises which will straighten an unusual reaction to exercise to be certain that she can safely take them.

This is a fact exercise which women who are bent; stand tall with the feet separated and the arms raised slightly above the head. Keep the arms in this position as you twist to the left, looking back over your left shoulder. Now twist to the right, looking back over your right shoulder. Continue, alternating left and right.

Another one is stretching upward against the wall. Stand facing the wall with the hands on the wall. Climb up the wall with your hands, reaching and stretching as high up on the wall as you can. Relax and repeat.

Many on-the-floor exercises are helpful. This one is fine for the waist as well as the hips. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms stretched out on the floor from the arm pits, palms on the floor. Bend both knees up close to your abdomen. Roll from side to side, touching your feet to the floor on each side. If you want a twist at the waist be certain to keep your knees close to the floor.

If you wish to have my waist exercises which will take inches from the waist in a few weeks' time, send a stamped, return addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6 "Don't Go To Waist" to Josephine Lowman in care of the Edmonton Bulletin.

Does Typing Hinder Your Career Future?

Fred Johnson was an up-and-comer, youngster, working as a file clerk in a big company where he hoped to get ahead.

One fine day the chance came, a junior executive opening with responsibility and a pay raise!

But Fred Johnson was stymied. His typing was poor and slow and the job called for weekly reports to the main office.

So another opportunity knocked into the waste-basket, because of poor training for the business world in the first place.

And Fred Johnson is no isolated case. It could easily happen to you, children.

False Passport Ringleader Jailed

Sentenced to Two Years
On Each of Five Counts

By H. L. Jones

LONDON, April 22.—(CP)—Idel Weingarten, 47-year-old Polish-born engineer, was sentenced today in Old Bailey to two years on each of five counts of corruption as ringleader of a fake passport ring which obtained entry to Britain and Canada for aliens. The sentences run concurrently.

Of the four other men charged with being members of the ring, Frank Geigord, London passport office examiner, was sentenced to nine months on each of three counts of corruptly accepting money, the sentences to be concurrent. W. R. Barrett, another London passport office examiner, J. Prior, Glasgow laborer, and A. E. Brown, Glasgow postman, were bound over on good behavior. Barrett for two years and Prior and Brown for one year each.

The judge said there had never been any doubt of the guilt of Weingarten, and through his "evil influence" other "good" men had been brought into disgrace in the prisoners' dock. Weingarten stood up and said he was as innocent as the sentence was pronounced.

STANDS DEFIANT

Getgood likewise stood defiant at the judge said: "It is a tragic thing to see you standing there" and behavior. Barrett for two years and Prior and Brown for one year each.

Regina Welcomes New Archbishop At Installation

REGINA, April 22.—(CP)—Thousands of Regina's Roman Catholics last night welcomed their new archbishop, Most Rev. M. C. O'Neill, who was installed in Holy Rosary Cathedral. The archbishop had been elevated in Edmonton last week.

Archbishop O'Neill, who served overseas as chaplain of the Edmonton Regiment, drove from the station to the cathedral in a 20-car cortege.

position of trust as a passport examiner.

Barrett broke down and cried as the judge said he would show leniency in his case and his voice choked with emotion as he answered the judge's questions.

The Crown had charged that Weingarten, who once confessed to trafficking in arms to Ireland during the Irish Republican Army disturbances, had obtained about 30 passports. With the fraudulent documents at least seven aliens were known to have reached Canada.

B.C. House Refuses Full Freedom to Japs

VICTORIA, April 22.—(CP)—The legislature yesterday rejected a motion by CCF opposition leader Harold Winch to remove all discrimination against Japanese in British Columbia.

motion of unfair Japanese competition in fishing.

After a stormy hour, it adopted instead, an amendment by Attorney General Winter. The change will alter conditions of Crown contracts to allow employment of Japanese in interior B.C. areas where they are now permitted by the Dominion government to reside.

The long debate had its origin in the government's move earlier this year to reimpose restrictions against employment of Japanese on Crown timber lands in the interior.

Land Minister E. T. Kenny warned the legislature that adoption of Mr. Winch's motion would open the way for Japanese in return to the fishing industry.

"Never in the history of British Columbia," he said, "have our native Indians been as prosperous as they are now, due to the elimination of unfair Japanese competition in fishing."

Mr. Winster said the bill "would not widen the liberties of the people of British Columbia, but restrict them within the scope of the act he proposes," the attorney-general declared.

He said the house should not change provisions regarding Japanese entry into the fishing industry. The federal government has on Japanese entering the coastal area west of the Cascades is still in effect.
